DDLFC coaching conflict policy

The DDLFC directors and coaches try to avoid conflicts as much as possible but with most DDLFC coaches coaching at least two teams within the youth academy sometimes these conflicts are unavoidable. In case of a conflict the DDLFC coaching conflict policy is as following:

- In case of a conflict the coach will try to reschedule one of the events and only when absolutely impossible the coach will attend the activity of the older/higher team and another DDLFC youth coach will attend the activity of the younger team
- A potential conflict and solution will be communicated to the team in a appropriate matter unless it's a last minute thing
- When there is a conflict with training another DDLFC youth coach will run the session. If another DDLFC youth coach is not available the team's session will be combined with another team. Only in last case scenario will a scheduled session be canceled, and, if canceled due to a coaches conflict, the session will be rescheduled
- When there is a conflict with a game, another DDLFC youth coach will coach the team's game. If another DDLFC youth coach is not available, and only when the case is right and this is a real exception, a parent might be asked to coach part or the entirety of the game.
